

Dear Parents,

We are so excited that you are allowing your student to be a part of Disciple Now 2009! Our prayer is that this would be a truly life-changing experience in the life of your student. This weekend will be filled with Bible Study, service projects, powerful worship, and tons of fun...but my guess is that on Sunday when you pick your student up they will sum the weekend up with insightful words such as “good,” “great,” “cool,” “awesome.” With that description ringing in your head they will head off to crash Sunday afternoon, do some homework, and then wake up the next morning and move on with life. As a parent often you are left wondering, “What really did happen over the weekend?”

It is for that reason that I am writing you this letter. At Disciple Now each year we bring in college age students from around Texas to lead Bible studies in the homes of church members for groups of students that are both age and gender specific. In other words, 6th grade girls meet with 6th grade girls, 8th grade boys meet with 8th grade boys, etc... The weekend centers around a series of Bible studies in the homes and rallies at our campus. Our Bible study times this year will be from a study called “Revealed.” This study will not only show students how amazing God’s word is, it will teach them how to study the Bible on their own. We are very excited about the study this year because we know that it is going to help your student to develop their faith for years to come. Here is the way the sessions will break down this year:

- Session 1: Get to know you/Essentials – Will show students why God’s word is essential
- Session 2: The Big Picture – Will show students the Big Picture of how to study God’s word
- Session 3: Bible Study Skills – Will help students develop skills for studying a particular passage
- Session 4: Practice makes perfect – Students will get a chance to practice their Bible study skills
- Session 5: True Change – Students will see how God’s word can truly change their lives
- Session 6: Wrap up – Students will have the chance to respond to what they have learned

We are so excited to see what God does this weekend! As parents I hope this letter helps to give you an idea of what we are communicating to your student and might give you an idea of how you can start some discussions with your student when they get home. Please be in prayer for them as they experience God’s word like never before! Thank you for the privilege of serving you and your student!

Dear High School Parents,

We are so excited that you are allowing your student to be a part of Disciple Now 2009! Our prayer is that this would be a truly life-changing experience in the life of your student. This weekend will be filled with Bible Study, mission experiences, powerful worship, and tons of fun...but my guess is that on Sunday when you pick your student up they will sum the weekend up with insightful words such as "good," "great," "cool," "awesome." With that description ringing in your head they will head off to crash Sunday afternoon, do some homework, and then wake up the next morning and move on with life. It is for that reason that I am writing you this letter. At Disciple Now each year we bring in college age students from around Texas to lead Bible studies in the homes of church members for groups of students that are both age and gender specific. In other words, 9th grade girls meet with 9th grade girls, 10th grade boys meet with 10th grade boys, etc... The weekend centers around a series of Bible studies in the homes and rallies at Pier 419. Our Bible study times this year will be from a study called "Live Love." This study will not only show students the amazing love of God, it will help them to bring His love into every aspect of their lives. We are very excited about the study this year because we know that it will impact every aspect of your student's life. Here is the way the sessions will break down this year:

- Session 1: Get to know you/Like No other – Will show students why the love of a Follower of Christ should be different than any other kind of love.
- Session 2: God's love – Will help students understand how God's love can impact our lives
- Session 3: Live Love – Will teach students to show others the love that they have received
- Session 4: Freedom – Students will see why God's love frees us from the things of this world
- Session 5: Wrap up – Students will have the chance to respond to what they have learned

We are so excited to see what God does this weekend! As parents I hope this letter helps to give you an idea of what we are communicating to your student and might give you an idea of how you can start some discussions with your student when they get home. Please be in prayer for them as they experience God's word like never before! Thank you for the privilege of serving you and your student!
